AdvantageHealth Enhances Preventative Screenings Services To Customers

AdvantageHealth Corporation is pleased to announce the expansion of their blood glucose and cholesterol screenings services available to their clients. Effective January 2006, cholesterol and glucose screenings services will now offer greater client customization and flexibility and allow AdvantageHealth to expand their target market. As a service once provided through strategic partners of AdvantageHealth across the U.S., the company will bring many of these screening services in-house, which allows them the benefits of utilizing their own staff and expertise in providing these services to their clients.

“Our customers will continue to receive the highest quality of customer service as before, but now they’ll see more options to enhance their wellness initiative or health fair,” states Kristine Keykal, Preventative Screenings Coordinator and co-founder of AdvantageHealth. “Utilizing our own staff also assures that the screenings are done in an accurate and professional manner.”

In addition, AdvantageHealth staff have wide-ranging backgrounds in lifestyle and disease management and can give participants more than just their cholesterol/glucose scores. AdvantageHealth staff can provide detailed information on how the participants can change their lifestyle to help lower their numbers. As with the help of AdvantageHealth’s Health Risk Appraisal, customers can then be advised on the correct interventions needed to improve the health and wellness of their employees.

AdvantageHealth Corporation is dedicated to providing the best in class health promotion resources to businesses, community organizations and educational settings.
